Question: "Why are we increasing Director terms from 3 years to 4 years?"

Rob Parker replied that it can be difficult to find new directors, and this will allow trained and experienced directors to work with us for longer. THANK YOU MEMBERS AND STAFF

Mr. Ricard thanked members and staff for their continued support during 2022.

ADJOURNMENT

Chair Paul Ricard called the 68th Annual General Meeting of Columbia Valley Credit Union closed at 7:22 p.m.

PAUL RICARD, BOARD CHAIR

As we reflect on the past year, your Board of Directors is proud that Columbia Valley Credit Union had another successful year in 2023. Despite the challenging rate environment, we continued to support our members, give back to the community, and play a vital role in helping our local economy grow and thrive.

The Board of Directors is made up of seven of your fellow credit union members. This diverse and dynamic group of individuals governs the Credit Union for the benefit of our members and community. I was honored this year to be the Chair of such a cohesive and committed group of leaders, and I thank each Director for their service.

Supporting our community is important to our Board, and we continued to find ways to support progress and innovation in Golden and the Columbia Valley. This year, we provided $7,500 to five local athletes so they could compete at the BC Provincial Special Olympic games. We enabled Abbeyfield House to buy a new heat pump to keep their residents comfortable. We supported the creation and construction of the outdoor classroom at Nicholson Elementary School, and we supported many local sports teams and clubs.

We are grateful to our amazing, courteous, and efficient employees, who make it possible for us to be the credit union we are today.

Finally, we are grateful for our members who choose Columbia Valley Credit Union for their banking needs and trust us to help them achieve their financial goals. Thank you for your continued support.

Paul Ricard Board Chair

ROB PARKER, CEO

Columbia Valley Credit Union experienced a strong year in 2023, thanks to our supportive members and our dedicated employees.

Even though 2023 was a good year, it was also one of the most challenging years. Interest rates rose much faster than expected at the beginning of the year leading to lower than expected revenues for CVCU. Despite this, we finished 2023 in the black and were able to return some of our profits to our members and community.

We strive to make a difference in the community every day. In 2023, we returned $87,750 in dividends and $266,275 in loan rebates to our members. The loan rebates represent a 5% return to our personal and business borrowing members. As we did last year, we gave back to our youngest members, giving each youth member $50 near the holiday season, and each new youth account member $25, leading to a grand total of $14,585 in 2023. The combined totals of community donations, student bursaries, and returns to members adds up to $427,076 in investments in our community. This is the credit union difference.

Did you know CVCU is a cooperative? We are guided by a set of cooperative principles originally laid out in 1844. CVCU strives to adhere to these principles every day. In 2023, we placed additional focus on the principle of education, training, and information, more specifically, member education. In keeping with this principle, CVCU offered two education sessions for our members. The first was a seminar for first time home buyers, and the second was an introductory governance session held for leaders of local non-profits. Both sessions were open to all members of the community, were well attended, and generated lots of positive feedback.

2023 was an exciting year for some key initiatives. We continued working on our online origination platform. In addition to opening accounts, you'll now be able to apply for loans anywhere, anytime in early 2024. We also implemented many cyber security enhancements, including multi factor authentication for online banking. This extra layer of security provides essential protection for your money and information, even if it's a little hard to get used to.

In the past, I have gushed about how great our employees are. This year is no different. We absolutely could not do what we do without our fantastic employees. I am not the only one that feels this way. This year's member survey confirmed that our members love our friendly, professional, and knowledgeable team. I am incredibly proud of what the individuals behind CVCU do for the credit union and our community.

No letter from the CEO would be complete without a thank you to our members. You are the reason for our existence. I hope we continue to support your financial journey as you continue to support us.

With thanks,

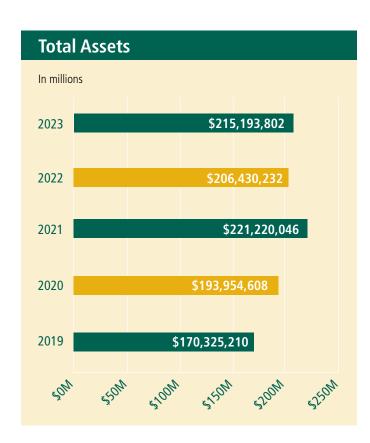

Rob Parker

TO THE SHAREHOLDERS OF COLUMBIA VALLEY CREDIT UNION

Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of Columbia Valley Credit Union (the "credit union"), which comprise the statement of financial position as at December 31, 2023, and the statements of income, retained earnings, comprehensive income and cash flows for the year then ended, and notes to the financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies.

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the credit union as at December 31, 2023, and the financial performance and cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS).

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the credit union in accordance with ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements in Canada, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with IFRS, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the credit union's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the credit union or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the credit union's financial reporting process. Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements.

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion.

Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists.

Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

 Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.

- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the credit union's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the credit union's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the credit union to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

Columbia Valley Credit Union has an evidence-based CEO compensation strategy. The CVCU Board of Directors compensates our CEO at the 50th percentile of compensation of like-sized credit unions across Western Canada, with a focus on the British Columbia market. The Canadian Credit Union Executive Compensation Survey is reviewed annually to assess our CEO's compensation against this target.

To ensure that the CEO is performing in the best interests of the credit union, its employees and members, the Board of Directors performs an annual evaluation process. The CEO's performance during the previous year is assessed in the first quarter of the following year. Additionally, goals for the CEO in the upcoming year are established.

Rob Parker was appointed as our CEO in April 2021 and is employed under an Employment Agreement contract. This contract is reviewed annually by the Board.
